Question 2: Documents

Sir Arthur Chichester helped to establish the plantation of Ulster. Study the sources and answer the questions which follow.

Source 1: An extract from a report Chichester wrote in 1613 describing the progress of the plantation.

The undertakers [planters] go slowly on with the works of the plantation. They are labouring to make profits from the land rather than erecting strong buildings and bawns [walled enclosures]. Some gentlemen have begun building stone houses, but few are finished.

In the meantime, the undertakers live in weak thatched houses, poorly prepared for defence if they are attacked. They dwell not in towns, as they were ordered, but live scattered up and down their estates. The people of Ulster would cut the undertakers' throats if they had arms and munition to make war.

(a) What did Chichester want the undertakers to build?

2 ✓ He wanted them to build strong buildings, bawns and stone houses

(b) What work were the undertakers doing instead, according to Chichester?

2 ✓ They were trying to make money off of the land by farming

(c) Give two reasons why the undertakers could easily be attacked, according to Chichester.

2 ✓ They aren't in towns, but scattered up and down their estates.
2 ✓ They live in weak, thatched houses

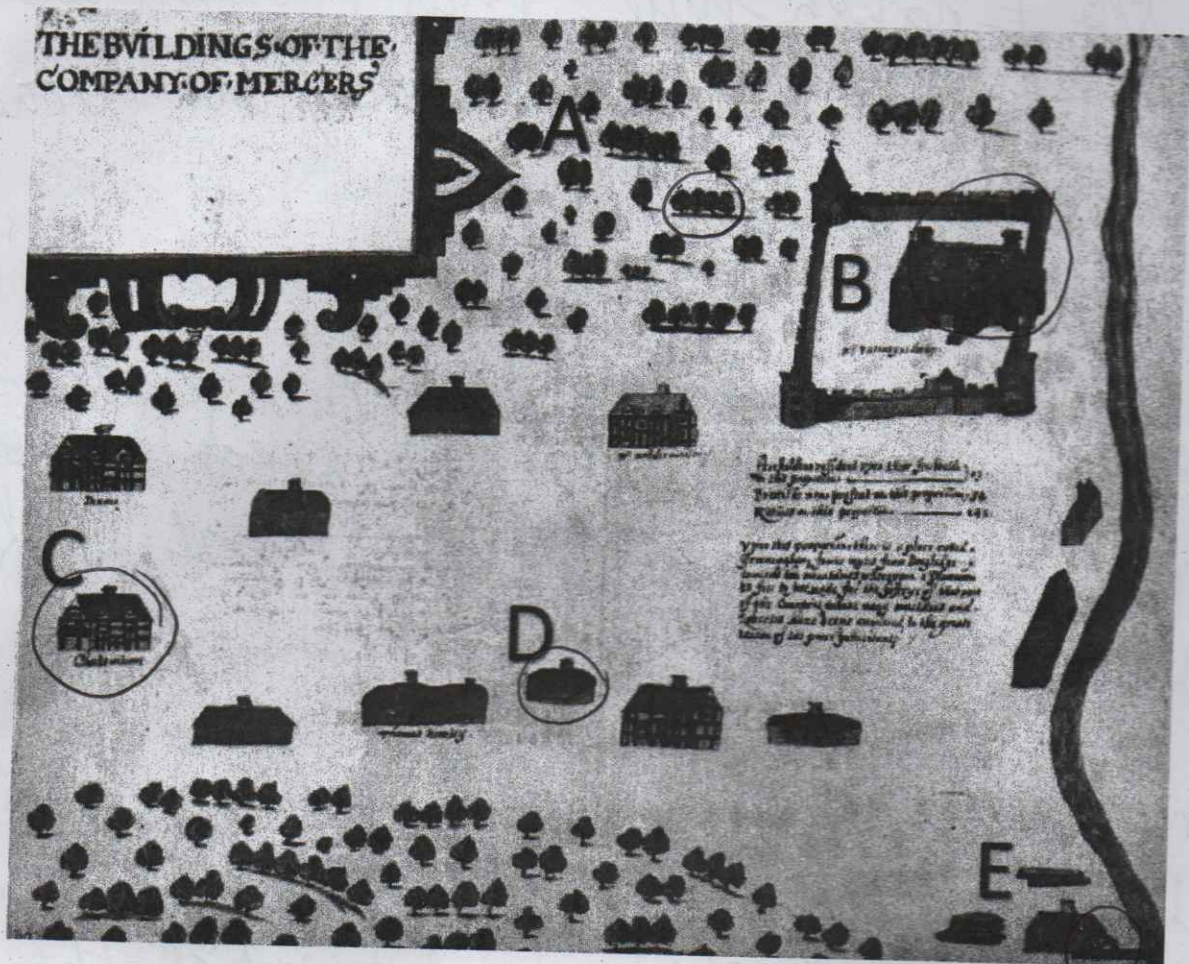

(d) What prevented the people of Ulster from attacking the undertakers?

2 ✓ They didn't have the resources and munitions to attack

✓ (10/10)

Source 2: A map, drawn in 1622, of the plantation village of Kilrea, Co. Derry.

- (e) Five letters, A, B, C, D and E, have been inserted beside features on the map. The letter D from the map has been matched with a feature in the table below. Match A, B, C and E to the other features listed in the table below.

| Feature                           | Letter       |
|-----------------------------------|--------------|
| A water-powered saw mill          | E |
| The surrounding forest            | A |
| A small thatched house            | D |
| A fortified house and bawn        | B |
| A stone house with a timber frame | C |

Section 3:

Pretend you are a planter in the Ulster Plantation and write about your life

- Describe the plantation

- Describe the rules
- Describe the town you live in and buildings
- Comment on its success

I am a planter in Ulster. I am loyal to King James I. I am a tailor. I am in a ~~tailor's~~ guild. I used to live in London until King James I asked us to come to Ulster. As a tailor, I ~~make~~ clothes. We came and ~~set up~~ a new town, Londonderry.

Undertakers, who were given land, have to follow very specific rules; They have to build a stone house and ~~wall~~ in the 1000 acres they were given, they can only ~~hire English and Scottish~~ workers and they have to pay £5 per 1000 acres in ~~rent~~.

I live in the town. There is a center square, called the ~~diamond~~, a Protestant church, a ~~courthouse~~ and a townhall. The town is surrounded by ~~highwalls~~. It has four gates that you have to pay a toll to get in ~~through~~ and close at night.

I had to build my house there in the English style. That means made of wood and brick, slate roof and terraced with other houses.

I follow English ~~law~~ laws and customs and practise Protestantism. I speak English, the language of business and am loyal to King James I.

The plantation is a great success. It is the most loyal plantation. Protestantism is now the main religion and English the main language in the area. Our farming methods, tillage, ~~to~~ are working really well.
